Mrs Stanaway, our Duke of Edinburgh's Award coordinator, has launched #DofEwithadifference, helping students to complete the physical, skills and volunteering elements despite the lockdown.

Well done to silver award participant Aisling Macnaughton. She has been developing her cooking skills, making a batch of pistachio and apricot flapjacks, and banana and oat cookies. Aisling's culinary creations are shown at the top of the page.

Staff have also been getting involved, tweeting about #DofEwithadifference activities they have been trying out in the evenings and at weekends. Check out the Ridgeway DofE Twitter account to see more!

Mrs Stanaway has launched a competition for students who upload their activities to Twitter and/or the eDofE site regularly. Prizes and certificates will be presented once we are back in school. She will also accept paper evidence if internet access is difficult.
